BorelissPro®

Dietary Supplement
60 capsules

Stimulates the immune system and soothes the symptoms of tick bites.

BorelissPro®

Stimulates the immune system and soothes the symptoms of tick bites.

BorelissPro® dietary supplement is an excellent source of phenolic compounds, chlorogenic acid, iridoids and alkaloids. BorelissPro®, thanks to the application of suitable proportions of ingredients and adding an innovative formulae of antioxidants which strengthens the product's effect, makes this fully natural supplement work with enhanced effectiveness.

All ingredients which compose BorelissPro® dietary supplement stimulate the organism immunology and soothe the symptoms of tick bites.

Cistus herb extract is an excellent source of polyphenols. It has antioxidative properties and effectively supports the immune system. It improves the quality of life, slows the process of ageing of the organism, and helps to maintain good condition of the skin. The cistus herb extract supports a healthy bacterial flora.

BorelissPro® (protected formulae of antioxidants obtained from the mixture of fruit and vegetable dry extract in varying proportions) provides the organism with many valuable high-antioxidant components which assist the function of the immune system and detoxify the organism.

Teasel root extract helps to detoxify the organism and has immunostimulatory effects. It contains valuable iridoids which help to keep joints and bones fit. Teasel root extract mobilizes and boosts the effectiveness of the immune system.

Garlic extract contains flavonoids and a considerable concentration of organic sulphur accumulated in alliin and scordinin. Garlic supports healthy function of the heart and helps to maintain a normal level of cholesterol. It is famous for its positive impact on the immune system.

Oregano extract displays strong immunostimulatory effects. It is also a rich source of flavonoids, protecting the cells against free radicals.

Japanese knotweed extract supports the immune system, helps to detoxify the organism and soothes the symptoms of tick bites.

Scientific opinions on BorelissPro®

"Thanks to the innovative formula involving the selection of only natural ingredients, which guarantees mutual synergisation, BorelissPro® dietary supplement is uniquely effective in Lyme disease prevention and it soothes the effects of tick bites."

Piotr Kardasz, PhD

Chairman of the DuoLife Scientific Council

"I meet more and more patients who suffer from Lyme disease which is very difficult to diagnose and provide an effective treatment. When inappropriately treated, it has a devastating effect on the human body. Natural medicine turns out to be indispensable in such cases. Its wisdom was used to produce BorelissPro® dietary supplement, which I recommend to my patients."
